CHAPTER 2
THE FIRST STEP IS ALWAYS THE HARDEST

After starting college,

You could fall in love with someone,

You could waste away your years with reckless abandon,

But...

If you are the ideal young person,

You could survive these couple years without pressure,

And do something amazing...

Eleven Design Studio
It's made up of four university students with a dream...

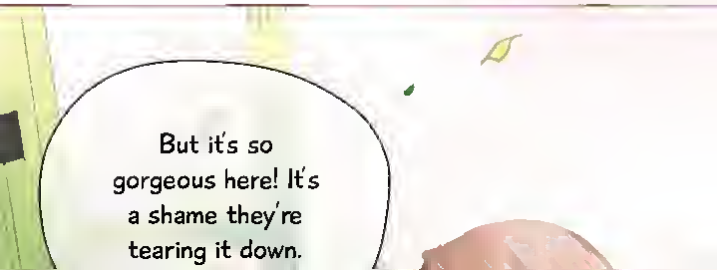
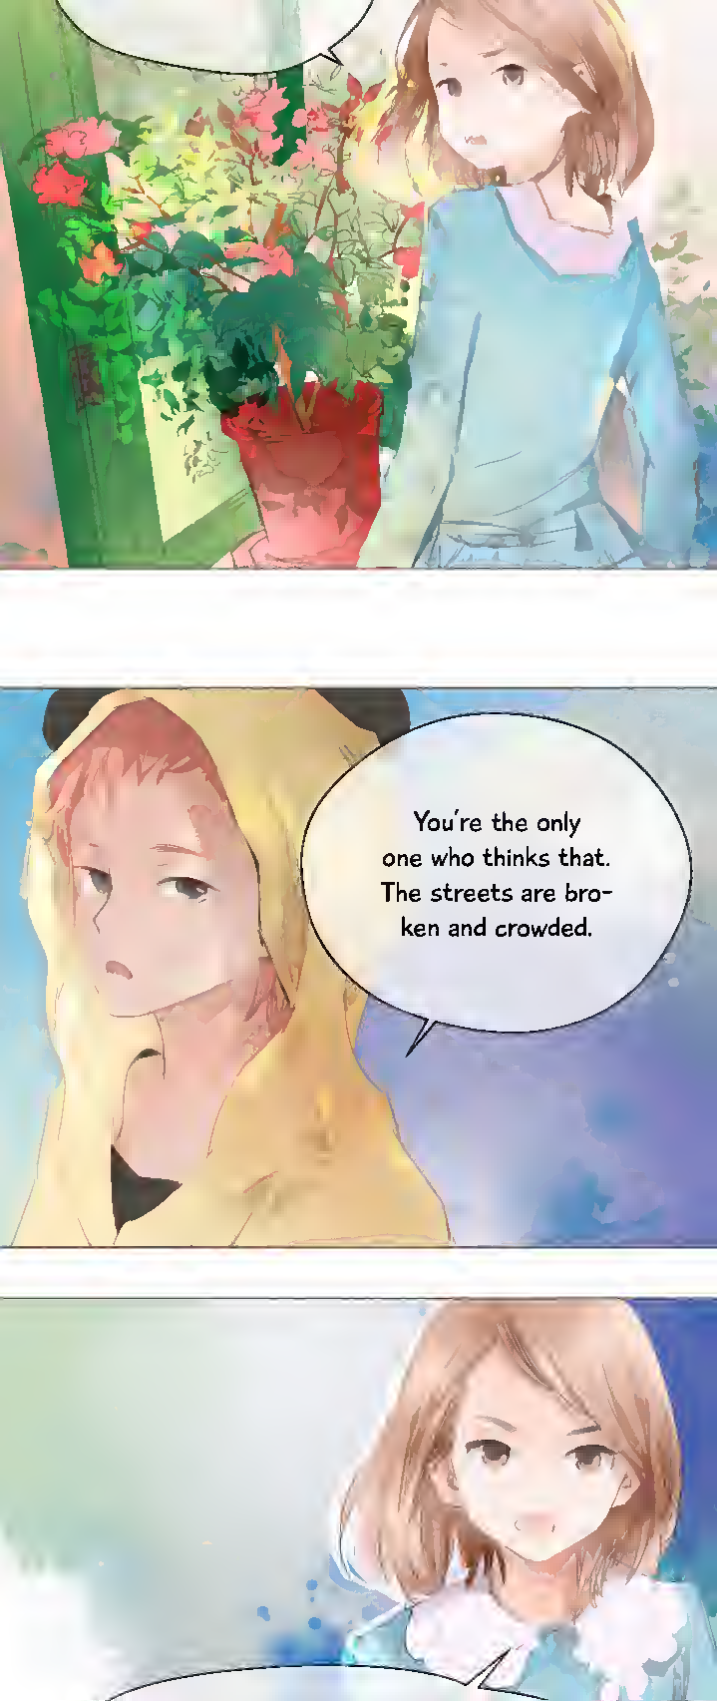
Why?

My dad said that this place has already been bought up by the builders, so it's going to be demolished soon.



But it's so gorgeous here! It's a shame they're tearing it down.



You're the only one who thinks that. The streets are broken and crowded.

You've got such bad taste. I'd be embarrassed to tell someone that we're from the same studio!

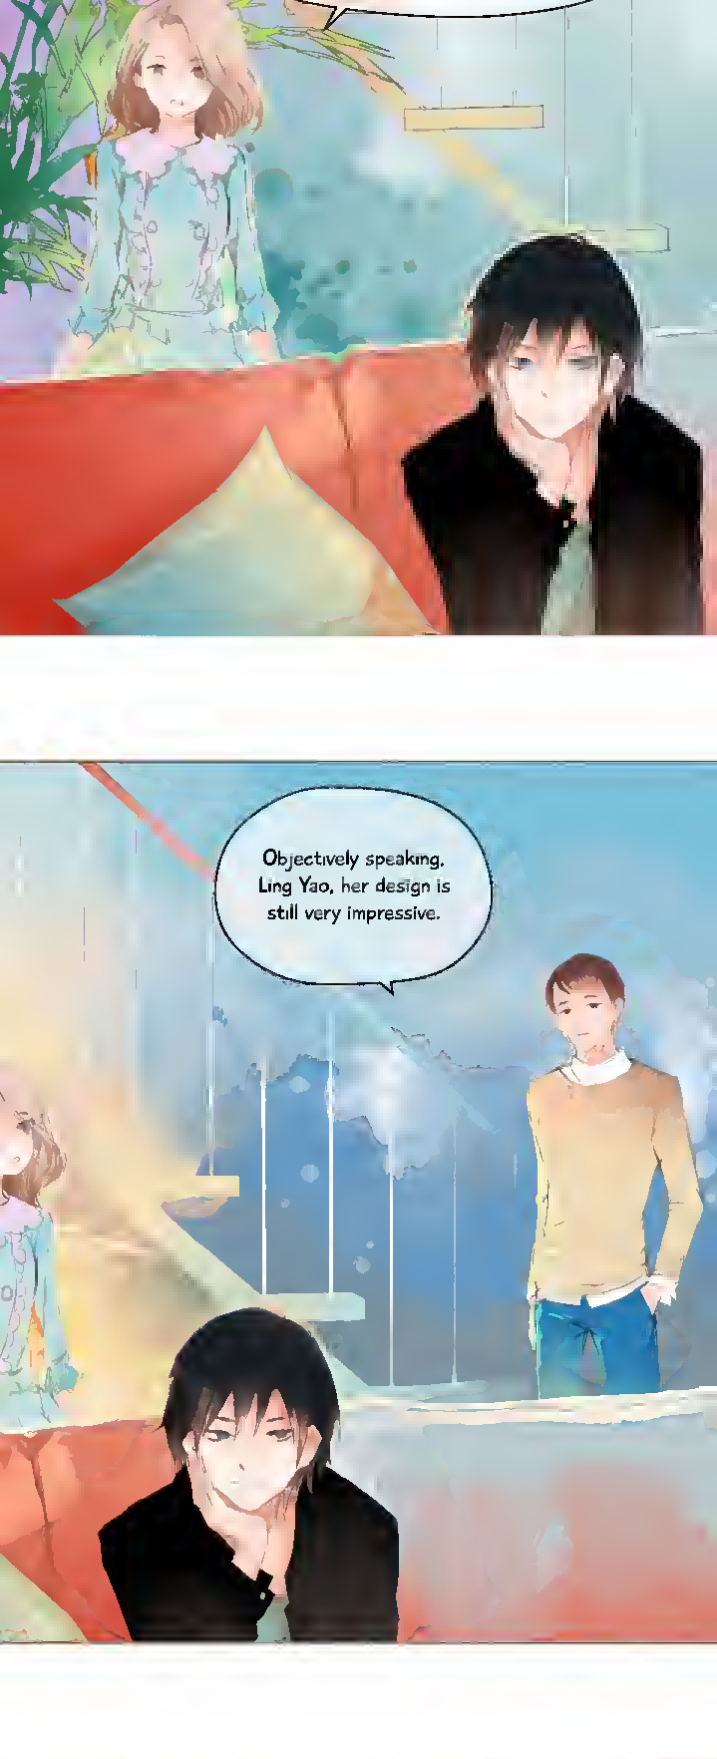
Hmph!

Miss Lin, this design of yours really made our eyes light up with amazement

It's really surprising to hear that you're a college student! Can you give us some insight about the concept of your design?

Haha, I'd first like to thank the customers for liking my designs, and I really appreciate the recognition. The customers were a pair of newlyweds, and...

That design is incredibly ugly...



Objectively speaking, Ling Yao, her design is still very impressive.

I don't care! Why did Lin Qian Lei's group get to be on that program, and we were designated as the alternative? How did this happen?
That's right~ How did this happen?
We've been holed up in this broken loft for two months now. Since we can't get better internet service, there's no way I can play online games.

If you want internet, pay for it yourself!

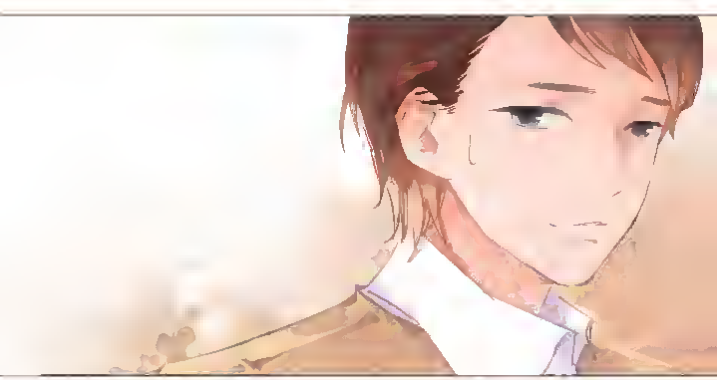
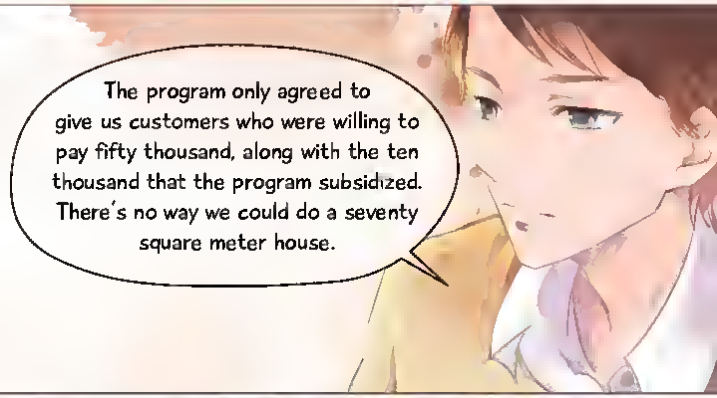
The fact of the matter is, it's humiliating! Lin Qian Lei attends the same school we do!

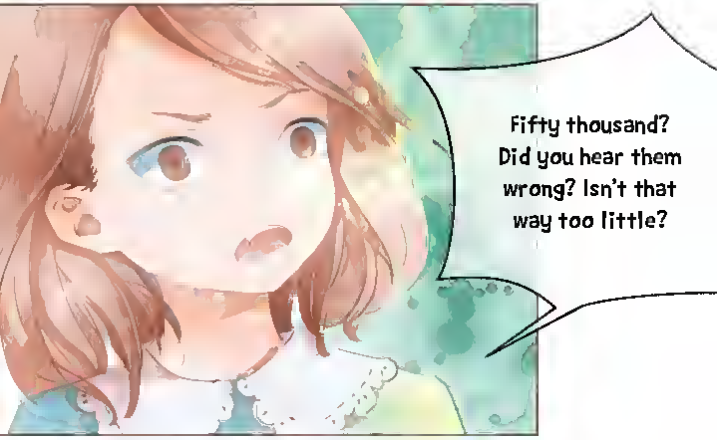


But as soon as people hear that we're novices, they won't give me a chance to talk to them. There's nothing I can do.
But why can they get something started? In the end, it's still your fault!

Boss, in the end, I think we should accept the offer to be the alternative.
I've already mustered up the motivation to work on something like this.



The program only agreed to give us customers who were willing to pay fifty thousand, along with the ten thousand that the program subsidized. There's no way we could do a seventy square meter house.

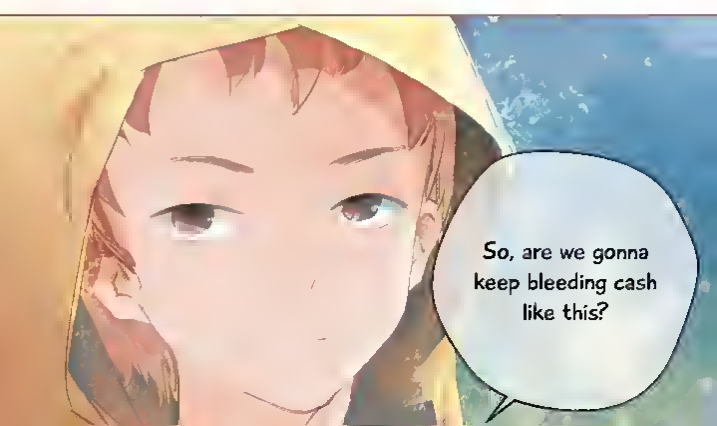


Fifty thousand? Did you hear them wrong? Isn't that way too little?

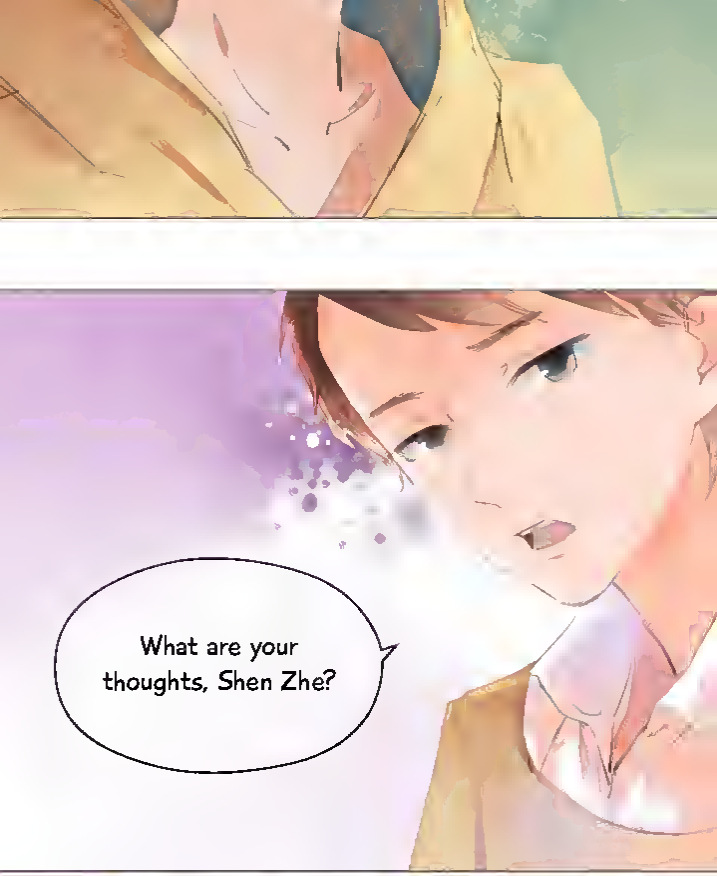
I also wished I heard them wrong, but I confirmed it with them multiple times...

Goodness!

This client is way too stingy...
In this day and age, fifty thousand won't even cover labor costs...



So, are we gonna keep bleeding cash like this?



What are your thoughts, Shen Zhe?

Do we have any other options?

Yeah, we could switch to a 100mb internet plan, and then we make money through esports!

Go to hell!
